

Family Development Workshops

Empowering Family Engagement

Powerful Parenting: Crafting a Vision for Success

Dr. El Brown, a former Head Start student and founder/CEO of KinderJam, shares a compelling narrative highlighting the pivotal role of committed parents. This motivating workshop empowers parents with insights on creating a curriculum for their children, guiding them how to plan for their child's success from objective to positive outcomes. Participants leave with a parenting vision statement and a three-month parenting plan.

The Advocacy Blueprint: Tools for Parental Collaboration

Navigating the delicate dance of advocating for young learners is explored in this workshop. It delves into the difference between advocacy and confrontation, emphasizing that effective advocacy is led by logic. Parents gain tools to collaboratively advocate with service providers, fostering positive outcomes for their young learners and families.

Mama Bear/Papa Bear: Methods of Effectively Advocating for Your Child with Disabilities

Enhancing families' capacity in decision-making related to medical, educational, and social transitions for children with disabilities, this workshop emphasizes effective communication. Participants practice taking quick anecdotal notes, engage in role-play exercises, differentiate between parent involvement and engagement, and develop one measurable goal for their child.

Discovering and Supporting Child Development

Friendship Numbers: How to Introduce Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion to Young Children

Ensuring that children, like adults, experience respectful, safe, and inclusive environments is vital. This training provides developmentally appropriate strategies and talking points to instill the ideals of inclusion and social justice in young children. It incorporates a read-aloud book, song, and activities that can be seamlessly integrated into learning environments.

Unveiling Hidden Treasures: Discovering Your Child's Passions and Talents

Empower the families you serve with Dr. El Brown's workshop, "Unveiling Hidden Treasures: Discovering Your Child's Passions and Talents." With Dr. Brown's expertise as a seasoned family advocate and mother of a college-bound student on the autism spectrum, participants will gain invaluable insights into identifying and nurturing their child's unique strengths. This workshop equips families with practical strategies to support them in unlocking their children's hidden treasures, fostering confidence and empowerment for lifelong success.

Maximizing Everyday Learning Opportunities

The World Is Your Classroom: Strategies for Identifying Teachable Moments in Everyday Living

Parents discover how to use everyday activities to teach young children across academic and social-emotional domains. This workshop emphasizes that creating teachable moments doesn't have to be costly or time-consuming; learning is all around us.

Tailored Professional and Family Development

Didn't find the perfect match? No worries! I'm here and excited to collaborate with you in tailoring a workshop that perfectly suits your team and family needs. Let's create customized solutions together to ensure your organization and families achieve success. I'm eager to work with you to help families WIN!